We would suggest to the Tombstone library association that they induce Col. Farrell to deliver his lines and mining at some time in the near future, for the benefit of the library fund. We have heard the gentleman lecture on this subject and can testify to his being one of the best and most instructive that we have ever listened to in the territory.

Tombstone vs. Dr. McSwegan.
The case of the Territory of Arizona vs. Dr. McSwegan still drags its weary length along in Justice A. Ford's court. Owing to the organization of the county court this morning there was no morning session. The witness Mary Wright has been examined by the prosecution for the past two days, and this afternoon was being cross examined by the attorney for the defense, and in response to a question asked her by Col. Herring, she stated that "the hospital steward came to her and offered her fifty dollars if she would leave Huachuca and not testify against Dr. McSwegan, who had been arrested and put in jail, as it would injure Dr. Andrews more than Dr. McSwegan if she testified as to the medicine they had given her, and that she would get herself into trouble as well as others," and that she told him that she was "no brand, and that she would not leave, but would testify, no matter who it hit," and then left him. The cross examination is still in progress as we go to press.

County Court.

The county court in and for the county of Cochise met this morning at 10 o'clock, Hon. Webster Street presiding, A. O. Wallace clerk and Sheriff Hatch in attendance. Several congratulatory speeches were made by members of the bar all of whom were present. It is a honor responded in his usual happy vein after which he read the rules he had adopted for the government of the court and the bar, which are as follows:
RULES OF THE COURT.
1. On every Saturday the trial calendar will be called and cases there at issue set for trial, but no cases will be called for trial or set to be called for trial on a Saturday.
2. On every Saturday the motion and demurrer calendar will be called and all motions and demurrers which have been filed the Thursday preceding will be heard.
3. Motions and demurrers may be heard and cases may be tried by agreement at any time when the court is not otherwise engaged.

One More.

A telegram from Gita Bond announces the killing at that place of J. J. Preston, a school teacher. Preston was quite well known in Tombstone. He came here last October from Texas, representing himself as a printer. He worked on the Epitaph about three weeks, at the expiration of which time, having been given the "go-by" by union printers here, he went over to Tucson and hired as a cheap hand on the Star. By doing so he temporarily drove several better men—men who labored not only for themselves, but for the labor cause—to the wall. In the divinity of forgiveness, some are more willing or noted than the average printer, but when men like Preston step over the river but little regret is forthcoming. It is to be hoped he will learn fellowship, if not manhood, in that place which is said to be so numerously paved with good intentions.

Deserved Compliment.

"We cannot refrain from paying Miss Carrie Nash a compliment for the very able manner in which she performed the duties of assistant journal clerk of the last council. At the close of the session she turned over one of the nearest journals of the proceedings to the secretary that has ever been presented by any of her predecessors. An accomplished young lady, she won a host of friends during her connection with the Thirteenth." THE TOMBSTONE and Billy Harris both endorse the above from the Flagstaff Champions.

The contract of D. F. Cooper to do the city printing, was presented, read, on motion accepted, and the contractor notified to furnish bonds in the sum of $1,000.

Under the head of new business, the clerk read a certified copy of the amended charter of the city.

On motion the instrument was referred to a committee of the whole with instructions to report at the next meeting.

On motion the auditor was instructed to notify the assessor to assess the city during the month of April, and to begin at once.

On motion, the city attorney was instructed to begin suits at once for the collection of delinquent taxes, licenses, etc.

The mayor notified the council that Tax Collector James had withheld some $300 belonging to the city, and asked the council what action should be taken in the matter.

On motion, the city attorney was instructed to bring suit against the tax collector to recover the money.

The city attorney stated that the action could not be maintained, and it was useless to bring it. He also suggested that the mayor should sign the tax collector's warrants, and end the trouble.

The mayor stated that he would not sign the warrants for the reason that he did not believe the tax collector had performed his duty.

The chief of police informed the council that they must provide a boarding place for city prisoners, Mrs. Dill refusing to board them at the present rate and take her pay in scrip.

On motion, the chief was instructed to provide for feeding the prisoners until the next meeting of the council, and be paid in coin.

On motion, the council adjourned.
